

UNC CHARLOTTE INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

For 45 years the University of North Carolina at Charlotte has hosted a celebratory gathering created to offer exposure to and understanding of different cultures. In past years we have welcomed upwards of 20,000 attendees, including over 4,000 students. For 2018 we had the second-largest student participation since 2015 with 5,065 students. In 2023, more than 13,000 individuals attended the program. The data below offers insights based on the September 29th, 2023, International Festival. We look forward to continuing the tradition and further expanding our program next year!
